One Fun Fact about yourself!

Our Classroom Values

We Never Stop Improving

We lend an ear to both praise and feedback to deliver our best work.
This process is a journey and not a destination.

We Bring a Can-Do Attitude

We confront challenges with enthusiasm and figure things out. We value effort, commitment, learning, and an attitude toward growth.

We Only Succeed Together

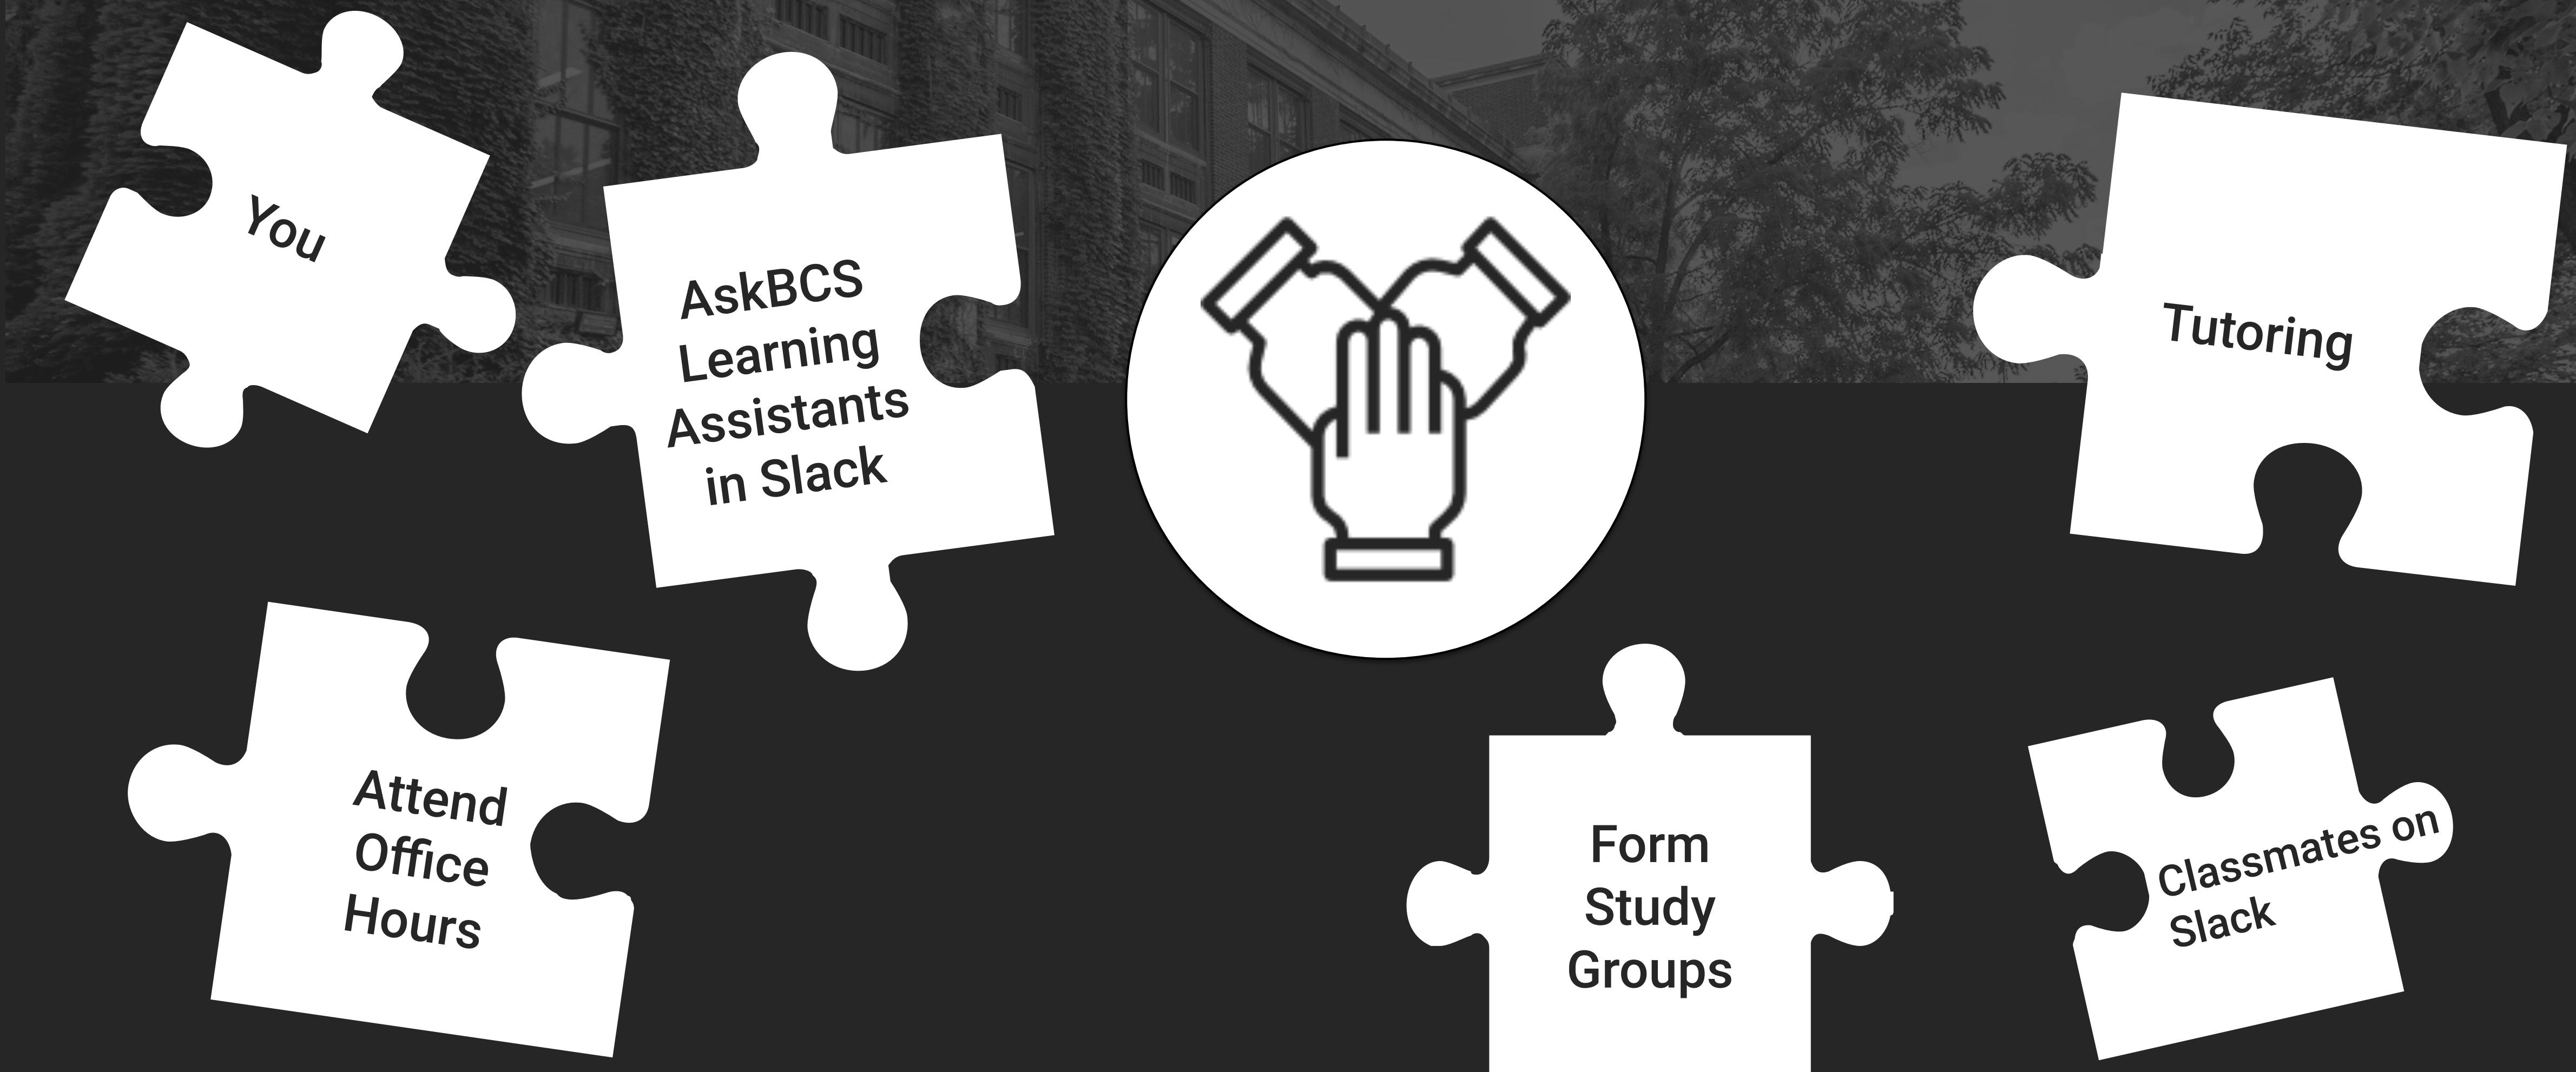

Teamwork is critical to our success, and we place a tremendous value on how we work together across the entire cohort.

We Respect the Rights, Differences, and Dignity of Others

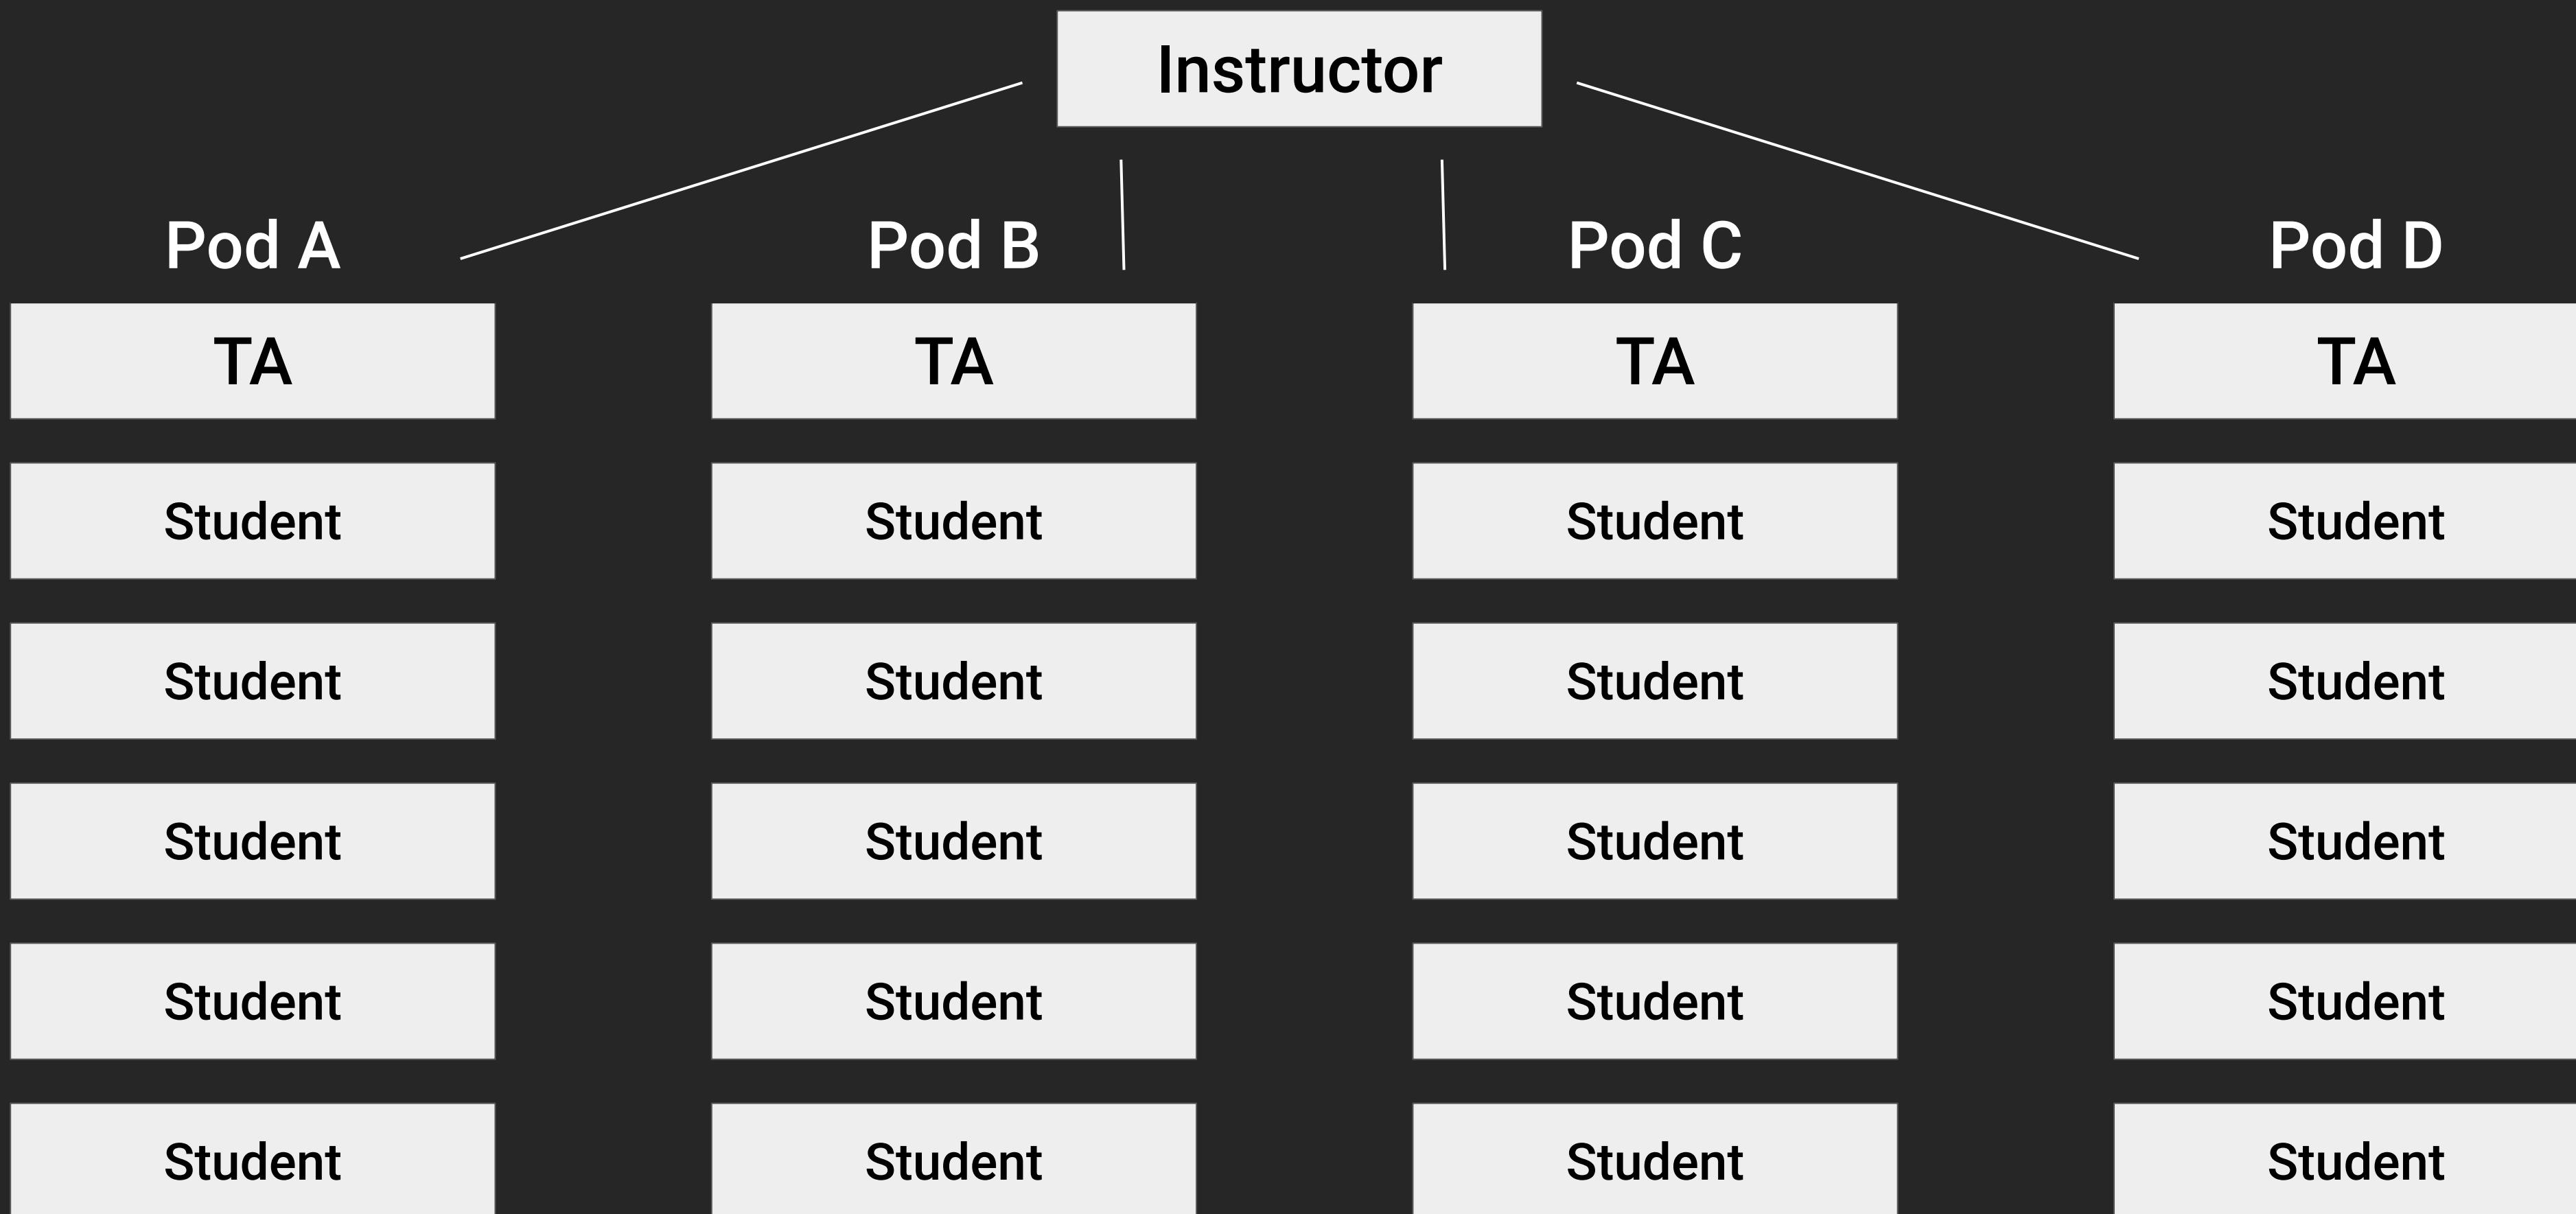

We want to create a learning space where people can bring their full selves. In order to do this we must all respect the diversity of our experiences and how it contributes to our learning.

SUPPORT STRATEGIES

You are responsible for your success, but you're not alone!

Be Original!

Use Your Own Designs

During the boot camp, you may look at other people's work for design inspiration. While you might use the same color palettes, typefaces, or assets, it is not acceptable to copy the entire visual composition of someone else's work. Make it your own.

Comment Your Code

Use comments to break down how your code functions. Thoughtfully commenting on code will benefit you in a variety of ways. Most industries that involve coding consider having easy-to-read code with comments that detail functionality a best practice. This makes it easier for collaborators to engage easily with the work.

Commit to GitHub Early and Often

Whenever you complete a step or fix a bug, commit your code to GitHub. This provides you and your instructional staff a visible way to track the evolution of your code, bit by bit. Frequent commitment to GitHub is also a standard in the industry that helps prevent impediments with collaboration.

Additional Resources

Remember: copying someone else's work and passing it off as your own, violates an ethical code among you, your fellow students, and the original creator of the work. Learn more in Module 14 of your pre-work.
